The Grief's the Thing?

Visit our class web page and read Meghan O'Rourke's piece entitled "The Long Goodbye: Hamlet's Not Depressed, He's Grieving" and write a 1-page response below. Respond from any perspective you wish. You may consider how your own grief or loss parallels that portrayed in the article, or you may take some other angle. If you don't feel you've experienced similar grief, then reflect on a loss, disappointment, or other emotionally challenging experience. If you still find no parallels, feel free to explore this solely through an intellectual & analytical lens.

This assignment is worth 30 points and is DUE: _____